

Dept. of Psychology Gets Research Aid

THE UNIVERSITY'S DEPARTMENT of psychology has been granted $18,245 for exploratory research into the human behavioral factors in automobile driving safety by the National Institutes of Health.

The project will be directed by James N. Mosel, associate professor of psychology. The request for a research grant grew out of discussions with officials of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Ad-

Gov't. Starts Pre-enrolling

THE SCHOOL OF Government is initiating this spring a pre-registration advisory schedule.

Graduates and political science and foreign affairs majors may consult their advisers during the last days of the fall semester to work out spring programs. Pre-registration advisory forms are available in the office of Dr. John W. Brewer, professor of international law, Government 204.

These forms, when filled out, signed by the adviser and presented at registration, will allow students to skip the normal advisory sessions before signing up for courses.

This system will expedite the registration process for students already enrolled at the University, enabling the advisers to concentrate on transfer students and students with special registration problems, the School of Government explained last week.

The system is similar to the pre-registration advisory program conducted by the Junior College. The office hours of Junior College advisers are posted outside the College office in Monroe 203.

PAD Initiates 13 Members

THIRTEEN UNIVERSITY law students were initiated into John Jay chapter of Phi Alpha Delta, honorary legal fraternity, December 15 in a joint mid-year ceremony with Georgetown University at the U. S. Military Court of Appeals.

University Initiates were Kent Daniels, Richard Rabkin, John Carmichael, Art Wilford, David Byerley, Robert Van Horn, Carlyle Thornburg, Arthur Palmer,

THE NEXT ISSUE of the HATCHET will be published February 5, the second day of the spring semester.

Ted Howden, Harry Dent, Jay Cantor, Gordon Coplen and Hugh O'Reilly.

New members were honored by the two university chapters at a banquet that evening in the Roger Smith Hotel.

General George W. Hickman, Jr., Judge Advocate General of the Army, welcomed the Initiates. Following the dinner, General Hickman addressed the P. A. D. group and the faculty members present. The general outlined the military JAG program and spoke on the future the program holds open to young lawyers.

Donald Hutson was elected justice of the University chapter at the final winter business meeting December 18. Other officers for the Spring term include Laron Hyde, vice justice; Carl Love, marshal; Clyde Frame, treasurer, and John Milliken, clerk.

P. A. D. members and alumni held their annual winter dinner-dance last Saturday at the Magnolia room of the Huntington Towers Apartments.

Rigid Parking Ban Hits Area Monday

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS and employees will be subject to a rigid Inauguration Day parking ban next Monday.

The neighborhood surrounding the University and the Hospital has been designated as disbanding area for the Inaugural parade. The parking regulation covers the district extending west from 18 st. to 24 st. and New Hampshire ave., south from M st. to Constitution ave. at 23 st. and along E st. between 23 st. and New Hampshire ave.

New Students Meet Jan. 20

INCOMING UNIVERSITY students will gather with their big sisters and old men in the groups' two major events of the spring orientation program January 30.

Old Men will open the spring semester with their traditional "glad hand greeting" to all new men at 7:30 p.m. on the second floor of the Student Union. Freshman and transfer "sons" will discuss with their Old Men curriculum requirements and the registration procedures. Rosalind Hawk, Big Sis president, will welcome the new women. Ann Weis heads the refreshment committee.

The men's orientation group moves into the semester under a new slate of officers. David Steinman will serve as 1957 president.

All "on street" parking will be prohibited in this area between midnight Sunday and midnight Monday. Only emergency and authorized vehicles will be admitted to the area after 10 a.m. Monday.

Persons wishing to park in the restricted area after 10 a.m. Monday must provide evidence that they have a reserved parking place. The student parking lot will be open to University employees and to students wishing to study for final examinations. Special parking permits are available this week in the University business office in building D.

Students and employees living in the district covered by the parking ban may obtain permits to park and leave their cars on the student lot during the 24-hour period. The lot will be open from 6 p.m. to midnight Sunday, and cars left on the lot during the ban must be removed by 8 a.m. next Tuesday.

Hospital Gift

AN ANONYMOUS $50,000 gift to aid needy patients has been presented to the University Hospital and Medical School through Mr. Donald D'Arcy Shepard, Washington attorney and a member of the University board of trustees.

The gift is to be used as an endowment, with interest to go "for financial aid to provide free or partially free hospitalization to indigent or needy persons with particular preference to those suffering from heart diseases."

Administrators and the Department of Vehicles and Traffic of the District of Columbia. Both the preliminary planning stage and the final research will be done in close cooperation with these agencies, Professor Mosel said.

The ultimate project envisioned by University psychologists is a study of automobile driver characteristics and behavior as factors in driving safety. The present grant, which will run for six months, will have seven goals, (See DRIVING, Page 7)

Teacher Develops Machine for Blood

A UNIVERSITY MEDICAL instructor is one of three men who have developed a new machine for determining blood volume in the human body.

Dr. Salomon N. Albert, clinical instructor in anesthesiology and chief of the department of anesthesiology at D. C. General hospital, is among the developers of the new instrument. Working with him on the project were Dr. William A. Spencer, chief resident in surgery at D. C. General, and William O. Swan, electronic physicist, now a senior at Virginia Theological Seminary in Alexandria.

Announcement of the discovery, a modification and refinement of the current method of determining blood volume, was made at a press conference last Friday afternoon at the hospital. The instrument will be released for manufacture and use in hospitals and industries throughout the country this spring.

The blood test is conducted by injecting radioactive chromium into the patient's body and, after a fifteen-minute interval, measuring the chromium content in a blood sample. The machine is able to calculate the amount of radioactivity in a period of two to five minutes. The former method required a minimum of thirty minutes and the services of a highly trained technician and a professional assistant to complete the test.

The new instrument has far-reaching implications in both the medical world and industries using radioactive isotopes in any form, medical authorities said.

'57 Activities Fair Shows Freshmen Variety of Clubs

THE FRESHMAN ACTIVITIES FAIR, the annual Colonial Program honoring the freshman class and presenting the varied extra-curricular activities on campus, will be held in Lisner lounge and the Dimock Room February 15, at 7:30 p.m.

Following the fair, a social dance sponsored by the Junior College will take place in the Student Union, with tentative plans calling for a talent show by members of the freshman class.

The Activities Fair, initiated three years ago under the auspices of the Student Council, is designed to acquaint freshmen in their second semester at the University, with publications, clubs and other organizations active on campus. Each group will erect a booth in the Dimock Room to recruit new members at the conclusion of the program.

Last year, twenty organizations participated in the Fair, with thirteen presenting dramatic skits or demonstrations. It is expected that the same number will participate again, with most of the skits slanted to the humorous angle.

Al Rode, freshman director of the Student Council, announced last week that several freshmen will be honored at the Fair for scholastic or other contributions made during their first semester. Discussing the purpose of the Activities Fair, Mr. Rode said:

"It is the policy of the University to discourage freshmen in their first semester from becoming too involved in extra-curricular activities. This is a reasonable attitude. For many, the first four months are a period of continuous adjustment, necessitating the greatest possible concentration on studying. However, once this adjustment has been made (in most cases, by the end of the first semester), it will be to the student's advantage to select an outside interest."

12 Pledges Receive Sponsors' Insignia

THE FLYING SPONSORS initiated twelve pledges as active members last Tuesday.

The girls received the rank of 2nd Lieutenant and silver wing insignia at the ceremony held in Chapin hall.

The new Initiates are Sandi Reedy, Kitty Maddock, Claire Chenault, Angela Gnotta, Jean Fasset, Bunny Miller, Elaine Mosel, Inez Tonelli, Nancy Oliver, Jean Scott, Mary Ann Alderson and Morna Campbell.

The Flying Sponsors serve as official hostesses and perform such duties as typing and sewing for the AFROTC Cadets.

... Winter Weekend Co-Chairmen

WINTER WEEKEND, 1957 style, will feature a jazz concert from 1 to 4 p.m. February 9 at the Bayou in Georgetown.

The band, led by Eddie Diamond with arrangements by Eddie Pierce, will play Dixieland set to a dance tempo. Master of ceremonies for the session will be Paul Garner, chairman of the Winter Weekend jazz concert committee.

The Bayou kitchen will be open to serve refreshments. The concert is a date-or-stag event.

The Weekend's agenda also includes the Mardi Gras costume ball, fraternity and sorority house decoration contests, and the basketball game with William and Mary.

The Mardi Gras ball will be held February 8, from 9 p.m. to midnight in the Kensington armory. One costumed couple will be crowned king and queen.

Sorority houses will have outside decorations. The theme will relate to the basketball game. The decorations will be judged at 12:30 p.m. February 8. Fraternities will plan inside decorations on the slogan "Jazz at G. W." They will be judged at 12:30 p.m. February 9.

The house decoration trophies will be awarded at the basketball game February 9. The Colonials will meet William and Mary at Uline Arena, with the starter's gun going off at 8:15.

Tickets for the jazz concert and the costume ball will be on sale in the Student Union lobby from noon to 1 p.m. and from 5 to 6 p.m. beginning January 31. Admission to the concert is 50c, to the ball $1.00.

Tickets are also available in the student activities office in the Student Union annex. The Weekend is included in the Campus Combo.

Winter Weekend co-chairmen are Meredith Eagon and Ed Turco.

Radio Hams Organize Club

• LICENSED AMATEUR RADIO fans and "hams" may soon see their interests reflected in a new University club, pending approval of the Student Council and the Student Life Committee.

Bob Shuken, a member of the Council and a student in the School of Engineering, has handled preliminary organization of the group, the first of its kind at the University.

The yet-unnamed club will be affiliated with the American Radio Relay League, a national organization of radio amateurs. Future plans include the building of transmitting, relaying and receiving equipment, as well as informal discussions on the technical aspects of radio broadcasting.

A.F. Presents Band Concert

• THE AIR FORCE Band and the Singing Sergeants presented the fourth of the Student Council-sponsored Colonial Program series last Wednesday night in Lisner auditorium.

Before an audience estimated at 200, the band presented numbers ranging from marches to grand opera. Under the direction of 1st Lt. Harry Meuser, their selections included a suite from the opera "The Comedy on the Bridge," "the Santa Fe Saga" by Morton Gould and the Marche Militaire Francaise from Saint-Saens' Algerian suite.

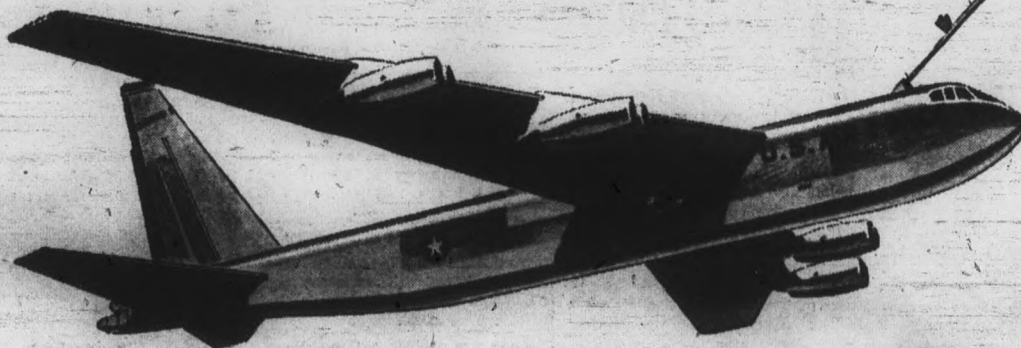

The Singing Sergeants, conducted by Capt. Robert L. Landers, sang "There's Gonna Be a Great Day," the spiritual "Steal Away" and two numbers from the Don Cossacks chorus, "The Song of the Volga Boatman" and "The Legend of the Twelve Robbers."

Soloists were T/Sgt. Bill Dupree, tenor; S/Sgt. Robert D. Kerns, baritone, and S/Sgt. Joseph Soprani, accordionist. Sgt. Dupree sang the operatic selection "The Lament of Frederick the Great" and, as an encore, Isabelle Firestone's "If I Could Tell You."

Sgt. Kerns presented "O Fleeting Vision" and Cole Porter's "Begin the Beguine." Sgt. Soprani, a past national accordion champion, played "Carnival in Venice" and "Lover."

Next on the Colonial Program series is the Freshman Activities Fair to be held February 15 in Lisner lounge.

What's doing . . . at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft

P & W A's J-57 turbojet . . . first engine in aviation history to achieve official power rating in the 10,000-pound-thrust class. Its pace-setting performance blazed the way for this grueling mission that set awesome flight records.

The Wasp Major . . . P & W A's R-4360 whose power (3,800 hp.) and performance have never been equalled in the piston engine field.

Mission accomplished . . . top-of-the-world and back — non-stop

Eight global bombers, powered by mighty turbojets, recently set non-stop records in 16,000- to 17,000-mile flights described as a "routine training mission to demonstrate the capability of the B-52 and the men who fly it". Flying continuously for as long as 32½ hours, the mammoth aircraft — each powered by eight Pratt & Whitney Aircraft J-57 turbojets — winged northward from air bases in California and Maine, over Thule, Greenland, continued to the North Pole, then returned by way of Anchorage, Alaska, to land in San Francisco, Baltimore, or Lime-stone, Maine.

During this spectacular top-of-the-world mission, temperatures as low as 65 degrees below zero were encountered, speeds approached 700 miles per hour, altitudes in excess of 35,000 feet were maintained, and each Boeing B-52 was refueled in mid-air several times. Powering the KC-97 Stratofreighters that accomplished the task of in-flight refueling were the mightiest piston engines ever built — P & W A's R-4360 Wasp Majors.

"Mission accomplished" . . . a brief but all-encompassing tribute — to the Stratofortress flight crews, to the Air Force's Strategic Air Command, and to the gigantic team of engineers in the aviation industry whose years of research and accomplishment represent thousands upon thousands of engineering man-hours that were required to make these record-breaking flights a reality.

Hungarian Sets Up New Geology Dept.

by Sandra Sweadner

• DR. GEZA TELEKI, expatriate Hungarian geologist, is the first full-time faculty member in the new department of geology organizing at the University.

Dr. Teleki will not only teach but also plan and develop a full program in geology both on undergraduate and graduate levels. He hopes to have the new department organized by next September. The geologist is currently teaching two courses, introductory geology 21-22 and structural geology 122. Geology 22 and geology 122 will be offered in the spring semester.

Son of Count Paul Teleki, world-renowned geographer and twice Prime Minister of Hungary, Dr. Teleki received his doctorate from the University of Vienna in 1936. Previously he had attended the Technical University of Budapest and the University of Zurich.

Dr. Teleki's professional career has included full-time professorships at the University of Kolozsevar and at the Polytechnical University of Budapest.

Armistice Delegate

After World War II, Dr. Teleki was one of three members of the Hungarian armistice delegation to Moscow in September, 1944. Upon the organization of the post-war provisional government of Hungary in December, 1944, he became minister of religion and education.

After the communist coup of 1947, the geologist-statesman was barred from University teaching and other functions. He escaped from Hungary in 1949 and came to the United States at the invitation of the University of Virginia to become a senior researcher for the U. S. Army. From 1950 to 1955 he was acting associate professor of foreign affairs there.

Other Activities

In addition to his teaching, research and political activities, Dr. Teleki was from 1936 to 1947 a member, board member, vice-president and president of various Hungarian scientific and cultural organizations and athletic clubs. He was a member of the Hungarian hockey team in the Olympic Games of 1936 and an aviator in the Hungarian Air Force in 1929 and 1930.

Dr. Teleki's literary activities include the publication of books, articles, and research reports both in the United States and Hungary. His public lectures outside Hun-

Summer Studying In England Opens For U.S. Students

• SUMMER STUDY AT British universities is open to American students in 1957, according to an announcement by Kenneth Holland, president of the Institute of International Education of New York City.

Six-week courses will be offered at Oxford, Stratford-on-Avon and the capital cities of London and Edinburgh.

A limited number of scholarships will be available to American students. Two full scholarships are reserved for graduate students. Award and admission application forms may be secured from the Institute of International Education, 1 East 67th st., New York City, or from its Washington office at 1530 P st., n.w.

Application Deadline

British universities have combined annually since 1948 to organize a special summer school program. Courses are planned for post-graduate students, but highly qualified undergraduates in their junior or senior years are accepted. Many American universities allow credit for attendance at these sessions to both graduate and undergraduate students.

Courses Offered

Courses to be offered next summer are Shakespeare and Elizabethan Drama, the University of Birmingham courses given at Stratford; Literature and Art in Georgian England, 1740-1830, at the University of London; Literature, Politics and the Arts in Seventeenth Century England, at Oxford University; The European Inheritance given by the Scottish Universities at the University of Edinburgh, and English Law and Jurisprudence at the University of London. The last course is open only to students enrolled in accredited law schools and law graduates.

Girls' Spring Rush Begins January 30

• FEBRUARY SORORITY RUSH will open with the Panhellenic Assembly to be held at 7 p.m. January 30 in Woodhull C.

• THE PANHELLENIC BOOK award, presented annually to the senior sorority member maintaining the highest overall quality point index during her college career, went this year to Joyce Gray of Delta Zeta, whose average is 3.7.

registering for formal rush is 5 p.m. February 1.

Active membership selection begins with open houses February 3. Rush continues through February 8, with four day-long periods of parties. Rushes will sign preference slips between noon and 1 p.m. February 8.

Delphi, sorority women's honorary, has begun an inter-sorority counseling service for prospective sorority members. Trained student counselors will serve during Panhellenic post offices, answering questions and supplying information for rushes.

Library Now Shows Area Artist's Work

• AN EXHIBITION OF prints and paintings by Ruth Starr Rose, Alexandria artist, is on display at the University library this month.

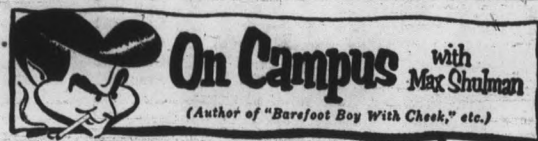

Mrs. Rose has drawn upon a varied background in producing her work. A native of Eau Claire, Wisc., and a graduate of Vassar, she has spent much of her life on Maryland's eastern shore. Among the paintings and prints on display are interpretations of Negro life and characters on the central Atlantic coast.

A prize-winning yachtsman, Mrs.

Rose has also presented many paintings and lithographs of ships on the Chesapeake Bay. Other works in the library exhibit include impressions of natives.

Carl Zigrosser, assistant director of the Philadelphia Museum of Art, has called her works "distinguished for their sympathy, understanding and vitality."

The paintings and prints will be on display through January 31. The library is open from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and 2 to 6 p.m. Sunday. D. C.

WHO WENT TO THE PROM ...AND WHY

"Hello," said the voice on the telephone. "This is Werther Sigafoos."

"Who?" said Anna Livia Plurabelle.

"Werther Sigafoos," said Werther Sigafoos. "I sit next to you in psych. I'm kind of dumpy and I always wear a sweatshirt."

"I'm afraid I don't remember you," said Anna Livia.

"I'm the one whose lecture notes you've been borrowing for two years," said Werther.

"Oh, yes!" she said. "What do you wish, Walter?"

"Werther," said Werther. "What I wish is to take you to the Junior Prom next April."

"That's months away, Westnor," said Anna Livia.

"Werther," said Werther. "Yes, I know, but you are so round and beautiful that I was afraid you might have a date already."

"As a matter of fact I do, Wingate," said Anna Livia.

"Werther," said Werther. "Oh, drat!"

"I'm kind of dumpy and I always wear a sweatshirt"

Anna Livia did not really have a date, but she was expecting to be asked by Stewart Stalwart, athlete and BMOG, handsome as Apollo, smooth as ivory, driver of a 2.9 litre Bugatti, wearer of faultless tweeds, smoker of Philip Morris Cigarettes, which, even without his other achievements, would by itself stamp him as a man of discrimination, as the possessor of a pleasure-oriented palate, as one who smoked for the pure joy of it, who had sought and found a cigarette brimming over with zest and zip and hearty good fellowship - Philip Morris!

Well sir, Anna Livia waited for Stewart to ask her, but two days before the Prom, to everybody's amazement, he asked Rose-of-Sharon Kinsolving, a nondescript girl with pavement colored hair and a briefcase.

Anna Livia sobbed for a spell and then, not wishing to miss the most gala event of the junior year, she phoned Werther Sigafoos.

"My Prom date has come down with a dread virus," she said, "and I'll accept your invitation, Waldrop."

"Werther," said Werther. "Oh, goody ganders!"

The next day Anna Livia received a phone call from Stewart Stalwart. "My Prom date has come down with a dread virus," he said. "Will you go with me?"

"Certainly," she said and immediately phoned Werther and said, "I have come down with a dread virus and cannot go to the Prom with you, Whipstitch."

"Werther," said Werther. "Oh, mice and rats!"

So Anna Livia went to the Prom with Stewart and who do you think they ran into? Rose-of-Sharon with Werther, that's who!

Stewart had felt obliged to ask Rose-of-Sharon because she always did his homework, but she had weaseled out because she really wanted to go with Werther with whom she felt a great oneness because they were both so dumpy. He fell wildly in love with her at the Prom, and today they are married and run a very successful five-minute auto-wash in New Bern, N. C.

Anna Livia and Stewart are happy too. They are still juniors and have not missed a Prom in six years.

Freedom of Press

• OUR FREEDOM of the press has always been important to us, and from a report published in Editor & Publisher, we have found a wide divergence in the freedom of other college publications.

In a story of a Sigma Delta Chi (professional journalism fraternity) seminar on undergraduate journalism, it is stated that the freedom of student editors runs from complete freedom to write what they please regardless of nominal control by publications boards, to operation as commercial enterprises with no official connections to their colleges, to the unfortunate cases where the freedom of the student editor has been suppressed temporarily or permanently, usually as a result of what college authorities deem to be misuse abuse of that freedom.

An editor of the Daily Northwestern reported current freedom to comment in spite of the fact that three editors have been fired by the publications board in recent years, which firings the editor attributed to irresponsibility. A student at the University of Washington at Seattle told of a recent football scandal there. While the paper had the freedom to print, it could not obtain the facts and this student went on to note that it is more of a problem of freedom of information than freedom of the press.

A member of the Black & White, University of Georgia, told of a long history of editorial suppression by a politically controlled board of regents, and a member of the Daily Texan at the University of Texas reported of a recent editors' fight with the board of regents, resulting in a denial by the publications board of student members' rights to vote and an intimidation of the editors.

Student editors, themselves, have an obligation. Is a school paper a personal organ of its editors or has it been placed in their care as representatives of the student body? Does freedom of the press belong to the editors alone or does it belong to those who read their paper? Nevertheless, there can be no condoning of any censorship or limitation on student papers, and free access to information is essential.

The freedom of the press is a continuing struggle, even on an undergraduate level, and no college community can claim to be mature without a school paper headed by editors who realize their responsibility and an administration which allows that responsibility to be exercised.

Busy Bernie Plans Prom

by John Stegle

• PUBLICITY DIRECTOR of the Student Council, co-chairman of the Senior Prom, PIKA scholarship chairman and Girl Crazy's Giebler Goldfarb—that's Bernie Passeltiner.

In addition he's an "Old Man" and also works on the Colonial Cruise. Sound busy? He is, but still maintains a 3.3 overall.

If you didn't realize that the University had a Senior Prom you're among many. There hasn't been one for a while, but the idea was brought up again to the Student Council and Bernie and Herb Silver were appointed co-chairmen. It will be held on April 6 at the Arlington Towers, and Bernie promises it will be quite an affair.

Active in University dramatics, he is a member of the Drama Board and was stage manager of George Washington Slept Here. Bernie has played roles ranging from a respectable senator in Curious Savage to a killer in Detective Story. Most recently he portrayed an ex-taxi cab driver reluctantly turned sheriff in the Gershwin musical Girl Crazy. A fine arts major, Bernie will graduate in June and would like to do graduate work in drama at C. U.

Foggy BOTTOM

by Hester Heale

• ALAS, FRIENDS, IT'S THAT TIME OF THE YEAR, again! Now some people will tell you to mend your partying ways, take up the practice of book reading, study and be saved. But not I. I say we must keep our heads on this matter. Did you come to college to be society-shunning glasses-wearing scholars, or to be students? Did you come to learn the finer points of English grammar, or the fundamentals of student unionizing? Will you fritter away four years in the library working on bibliography cards and research papers, or will you devote your time out of class to merry blasts and frequent trips to seven or eight (or more) years? Well, the choice is yours, but whatever you do, do be casual about it!

Aha, we have another contest going on campus now! The Phi Sig pledge class sponsored a "Miss Model Pledge" contest and last Saturday night saw a gay mad party going at the house on New Hampshire Ave. as the representatives of all the sorority pledge classes made merry and Professor L. Poe Leggett, renowned performer, veteran of last year's Panhel Sing and this year's Goat Show, interviewed the young ladies and finally named Delta Zeta's Patty Kallis as "Miss Model Pledge." Second place went to Nancy Oldham, Pi Phi, and third to Sandra Lee Spivak, Phi Sigma Sigma. All three received trophies and bouquets, and Bob Hughes, Phi Sig pledge class president, crowned "Miss Model Pledge" with a crown of red carnations.

Fraternity houses were crowded and merry as many Marylanders left their dry campus and partied after that game I refuse to mention at G. W. houses. Strange people turned up in strange houses, but nobody seemed to notice.

The Pikes called their blast the "Bartender's Ball" and the Bartender in question, Lennie Metello took time out from his alcoholic duties to entertain with rock 'n' roll numbers and to lead group ternities, "because all the people who would be interested would be there."

A peppy guy who's happiest among people who mean what they say and say what they mean, Bernie says of G. W., "I like. I dig it the most!"

singing with Snuffy Smith, Jim Black, Bill Scarrow, Walt Jasnike, Bernie Passeltiner and Bill Dunning. Couples included Al Schneider and Sidney Clardy, Jim Black and Margie Lomfesty, Jim Douglas and Jo Ann Holler and Dick Spradlin and Shirley Smith. The Old Guard of bird dogs included George Morgan, Danny Gilham, and Frank Rodriguez. Also I hear that two Pike pledges have "lost" their pledge pins to two young co-eds, but fellows! That jes don't go.

Also blasting away was the SPE house as "Old Home Week" was in full sway. Strange things, though. No account of Moondog's doing came out of it.

Always had wondered what goes on at Student Council meetings. Now have an account of a pre-meeting game of darts, as Council prexy Joe Hince and Vince Metalla teamed up against Bob Shuken and Gene Lambert with Ray Kline keeping score. Hince and Metalla are rumored to have won.

Engagement ho! Peggy Mason, a Wandering Greek, Alpha Delta, has announced her engagement to Dick Wurst, a Phi Sig at Gettysburg College.

And down here on this campus, another Phi Sig has recently gotten pinned. Bill Cartwright, a transfer from West Virginia, has given his pin (or at least a Phi Sig pin; there are dissenting rumors on the ownership of the pin) to Pi Phi pledge Kay Falk.

And now, friends, if you did not find your name in here this week because you were named "most likely to be a slob" by your fraternity, or because you attended a huge tremendous blast, blame only yourself. How can I know when you are named "most likely to be a slob" by your fraternity, or what huge-tremendous blast you attended, if you don't tell me these things.

Good luck on those blue books, and do remember—be casual!

Troubadours Spend Christmas Entertaining Troops In Arctic

by GREGG MAYER

• ON DECEMBER 18, 1956 the Traveling Troubadours left the University for 18 days, with the purpose of providing "entertainment and religious features for personnel of the Northeast Air Command." On that day 31 singers boarded the plane which took them to far-off outposts, hospitals, radar and weather sites in Goose Bay, Labrador; Frobisher Bay, Baffin Island; Thule and Sondrestrom Fjord, Greenland; Pepperrell Air Force Base, Newfoundland; Summerside, Prince Edward Island.

Under the expert guidance and baton of Dr. Robert H. Harmon, the Troubadours presented a varied repertoire including a medley of Broadway hits, Christmas carols, folk music, Handel's Messiah, sacred and secular selections. Mrs. Harmon was the stalwart accompanist, with assistance from Ginny Botek. Soloists for the programs were Sue Berry, Sally Davis, Bill Dotson, Dick Hedges, Carol Hesse, Paul Hull and Ann Mitchell.

The hours during the trip were not exactly a 9 to 5 arrangement. Landings, performances and departures were apt to take place at any time, creating quick and plentiful changes from arctic gear to tux and formal. However, the men at the bases were so appreciative that it made all the rushing and inconveniences well worth the while.

The members of the Troubadours felt a great deal of joy at being able to give so much pleasure to their audiences; not only did they sing, but they also held square dances with the men at the weather and radar sites. These occasions were the bright spot in most of the men's stay in those isolated areas, and the feeling of warmth and sincerity was felt by both parties.

During this latest trip to the Arctic the Troubadours were treated to an entirely new experience: riding a snow mobile. This machine has been described as one-half sled and one-half tractor. About eight people were jammed into it at a time, but much fun was had by all. Another event of interest in when the group was about to sing "God Save the Queen," and the Canadian people abruptly stopped them. Reason: this song was meant as finale and the Troubadours weren't finished singing!

Whether singing at Cardinal Spellman's Christmas mass in Thule, taking down addresses of the "folks back home" from the servicemen, or relaxing in furlined comfort on board the plane, the Traveling Troubadours made the most of every situation personally, musically and sincerely. And that is a good record for ANY group of ambassadors.

which must be reached before further study can be made.

Objectives

The objectives include making a through study of work already done or in progress which may be related to the total project; development of a detailed research program for the total study which will enable the psychologists to make estimates of necessary personnel, facilities and equipment; establishment of close cooperation with agencies involved in the total project, and making preliminary pilot runs of procedures.

As a part of the program for the next six months, the project personnel will survey all relevant work in fields touching the problem of driver psychology and traffic safety. Professor Mosel stressed that although there are a number of projects directed at improving traffic safety, the present study will be much broader in scope and will incorporate data gathered by other agencies, schools and foundations on various aspects of the problem.

Contributing Organizations

Contributing organizations will range from the D. C. Department of Vehicles and Traffic, under George E. Keneipp, to the Traffic Institute at Northwestern University under J. Stannard Baker and the General Motors Proving Ground in Milford, Michigan, whose administrative engineer is T. J. Carmichael.

The research, Professor Mosel said, is aimed at establishing facts and discovering relationships which will form the scientific basis for procedures and actions aimed at reducing the mounting toll of deaths and personal injuries from automobile accidents.

Beyond Previous Studies

The proposed research gives promise of going beyond previous investigations in the study of the more complex psychiatric, attitudinal and psycho-social factors which preliminary existing studies indicate are probably the significant human factors in accident causation and proneness."

Serving with Professor Mosel, who will be project director, are Dr. Leon Goldstein, research psychologist, and Dr. Thelma Hunt, professor of psychology and executive officer of the department of psychology at the University.

Participating Consultant

Participating consultants will be Dr. Winfred Overholser, professor of psychiatry and superintendent of St. Elizabeth's Hospital; Mr. Keneipp, director of the Department of Vehicles and Traffic in the District, and Basil R. Creighton, assistant director of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators.

An advisory panel will be established to represent different interests in relation to the project, to whom plans and research designs will be submitted for guidance, criticism and suggestions. The panel might include local traffic safety officials, psychiatrists, and others whose positions give them special qualifications in the study of human behavior and safety on the highways.

Annual Convention On Careers Adds Four New Forums

• TWENTY-FOUR FORUMS, four of them new this year, will highlight the 1957 Career Conference to be held March 27.

The Conference is held annually to acquaint students of the University and greater Washington area high schools with the opportunities, educational requirements, salaries and necessary qualifications in their chosen vocational areas. Co-chairmen are Ray Garcia and Ed Crump.

Political science and public administration, accounting, geology and economics have been added to this year's forum list. Discussions will also be offered in the fields of art, business administration, chemistry, church work, civil engineering, foreign affairs, geography, home economics, journalism and public relations, languages, law, mechanical engineering, medicine, pharmacy, physical education, physics, psychology and sociology.

Preceding the keynote speech in Lisner auditorium, a service band will present a concert. Following the speech the audience will move to individual forums.

Fiction Contest Awards Two $500 First Prizes

• THE 1957 COLLEGE fiction contest sponsored by Mademoiselle magazine opened last month.

The contest offers two $500 first prizes for original short stories submitted by undergraduate women in accredited colleges and universities throughout the United States. Runners-up will receive honorable mention and the possibility of publication in Mademoiselle at regular rates.

Deadline for contest entries is March 15. Winners will be announced in the magazine's August issue. The editors of Mademoiselle judge the contest.

Entries should be between 2,500 and 5,000 words in length, contest rules state. Contestants may submit any number of stories to the contest. Age limit for entrants is twenty-six.

The format submitted is given in contest rules. Entries should be typewritten, double-spaced, on one side of regulation-size typewriter paper. Each work should be marked with the contestant's name, age, home address, school address and year. Entries will be returned if the author encloses a self-addressed, stamped Manila envelope.

Stories should be submitted to College Fiction Contest, Mademoiselle, 575 Madison Ave., New York 22, New York.

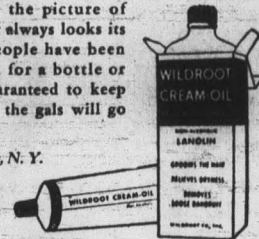

Nobody Gave A Hoot For J. Paul Sheedy* Till Wildroot Cream-Oil Gave Him Confidence

"Wise everybody avoid me so?" h-owed J. Paul. "Because you're such a ruffled old bird", replied his best buddy. Well that really opened Sheedy's eyes. He took a taxi-dermist down to the store and pecked up a bottle of Wildroot Cream-Oil. Now he's the picture of confidence because he knows his hair always looks its best from morning till night. So if people have been hooting at your messy hair, screech for a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. It's guaranteed to keep your hair neat but not greasy. And all the gals will go out of their way to beak to you.

Mural Basketball Action Takes Break For Finals

by Bob Lipman

• HIGH SCORING GAMES and two forfeits were features of the last week of intramural action before final exams.

Saturday's results: League A—Med Jrs. 86, ROTC(b) 6; Indians 73, Med Sophs 21; Wesleyans 30, Sigma Chi(b) 25.

The Med Jrs. poured it on ROTC(b) rolling up 86 points.

The Jrs. played as if they were losing the game, because they had a 33-0 halftime lead, and still maintained a full court press for the remainder of the game. This shows a certain lack of thought and courtesy on the part of the Jrs. in trying to humiliate an opponent. Killen and Ratzler were high for the Jrs. netting 20 and 16 points.

John Bouquet led his Indian teammates to an easy victory over the Med Sophs as he collected 24 points. The game was a run-away with the Indians having a 37-8 halftime lead.

League B—Newman club 37, Pirates 16; Med Frosh 39, DTD (b) 22; Rebels 54, SPE 25.

Colna Sinks 22

Carl Zaleski sank 14 points in leading the Rebels to a victory over SPE. Stan Waloyac and Ed Sakach popped in 12 points to help keep the Rebels undefeated.

Sunday's results: League D—Jersyans and Delta Theta-Phi won by forfeits over TKE and Kappa Sig respectively. Mighty Mites 46, ROTC(a) 38.

Ted Colna led the Mighty Mites to victory as they pulled away from a stubborn ROTC club in the fourth quarter. Colna tallied 22 points, scoring mostly on sets and fast breaks. Don Herman of ROTC took scoring honors as he got 28 of his team's 38 point total.

The two forfeits in this league definitely put a damper on league play. As stated in the handbook each team will lose 100 points on a forfeit.

League E—DTD(a) 41, Clowns 18; Phi Sig 26, TEP 25; AEPI 60, Acacia 19.

Overtime Game

In an overtime game Phi Sig nipped TEP by one point. The victory wraps up the league championship for Phi Sig barring any upset.

It was a tight defensive battle with the score 9-6, Phi Sig, at the half. They were leading 22-20 with 12 seconds left to play when Larry Alpert, TEP, sank a set shot to tie up the ball game. In the overtime period Phi Sig Demetrius Condeilis scored all four of his team's points to wrap up the win.

AEPI had an easy time as they beat Acacia by 41 points. Milt Michaelis scored 39 points and completely dominated the boards to lead the AEPI's to victory.

Sigs Keep Rolling

League F—Sigma Chi 96, Kappa Alpha 33.

Sigma Chi almost cleared the century mark, but fell short by four points in their rout of Kappa Alpha. Ray Looney and Dick Claypool led the attack with 26 and 21 points as all five starters, including Vern Yates, Dave Liddick, and Dick Geisler, scored in double figures.

Mural Notes: There have been many complaints in the last few weeks about the poor officiating in the basketball games. The referees aren't calling half of the fouls that they should and they hide behind the statement that they can't call everything. This makes for sloppy play and something should be done about it. A losing basketball team is no excuse for the referees being lax in officiating.

Clock Running

The timekeepers should also be warned! It seems that when a team is far behind they keep the clock going in the last four minutes to speed up the game, if they are behind schedule for the playing of the next game.

Last week the Intramural Staff picked an All-University Intramural Football team. Their selections are as follows:

Ends

Smart, Nick.....Sigma Nu
Fortner, Stan.....Delta Tau Delta

Guard

Reubin, Irwin.....Phi Alpha

Center

L'ong, George.....Newman club

Backs

Kushner, Herb.....Phi Alpha
Smith, Tom.....Delta Tau Delta
Rappaport, Herb.....Alpha Epsilon Pi
Second Team: Ends—Dannick (Phi Alpha), Jolly (PIKA); Guard—Hollander (Theta Tau); Center—Barkin (Phi Alpha); Backs—Cato (SAE), De La Vergne (PIKA), Schlemmer (DTD).

Late Sunday scores showed Theta Tau beating SAE(b) 57-22, and PIKA downing Phi Alpha(b) 50-34.

Colonials Defeated Twice To Extend Losing Streak

by Bill De La Vergne

• ANYONE WHO SAW the Georgetown or Maryland games last week witnessed two terrific ball games—that is if they left each one at the end of the first half.

The Colonials kept their "streak" alive as they bowed to the Hoyas, 85-61, and to the Terps, 68-48 for their sixth and seventh consecutive losses.

Georgetown's victory over G. W. was the first since 1953. The game was played at Georgetown's McDonough Gym before about 1500 fans, and ended the Hoyas six-game losing streak.

It was a fast and even first half with the score tied at 30-all with 4 minutes to go. Before time ran out, however, Georgetown dropped in four baskets to one for the Colonials to take a 38-32 halftime advantage.

After intermission, Georgetown's predominantly senior squad dominated the game and slowly widened the margin.

In the last 9 minutes, the Colonials hit a cold spot, making only one field goal. G. W. had only a 22 per cent shooting average, sinking but 19 of 86 shots. The Hoyas connected on 36 of 84.

Warren Buehler of Georgetown hit on 11 of 18 field goal attempts and 6 of 11 free throw tries to take game scoring honors with 28 points. Teammate Joe Missett, who did some fine second half shooting, wound up with 16 points and led the Hoyas in rebounds with 14.

Jack Jolly was high-man for the Colonials with 16 points. Jolly connected with 7 of his 14 field goal tries and snared 14 rebounds. Some excellent guarding by Georgetown's Missett held Gene Guarilia to 11 points, all from the free throw line.

The Maryland game, played Saturday night before 1,000 fans at Uline Arena, was almost a duplicate of the Georgetown game. Again it was a fast and furious first half. Maryland broke a 4-4 tie four minutes after the game started and led until Gene Guarilia hit on a jump shot with 3:25 remaining in the first half to put the Colonials out in front for the first time, 24-23. From then on the lead changed hands several times until John Nacincik stole the ball with only four seconds remaining and scored on a driving layup. He was fouled while shooting and made the free throw to give the Terps a 30-28 halftime margin.

As the second half got under way it looked as if it was going to be close all the way. Guarilia connected on two jump shots and Bucky McDonald on a long set, while Maryland scored twice with Bob O'Brien hitting from the left side. The score at this time was 34-all and the second half was only 2 minutes and 20 seconds old. Bill Telasky scored G. W.'s next basket—6 minutes and 20 seconds later. Meanwhile, Nick Davis had dumped in three, O'Brien and Nacincik, one each, and Jim Hal-leck had converted two free throws to give the Terps an 8-point advantage, 44-36.

Nacincik took the game scoring honors with 21 points, and O'Brien and Davis had 18 each. Of the 38 points scored by Maryland in the second half, 26 were by Davis and O'Brien.

Bill Telasky was high man for the Colonials with 17 points, followed by Guarilia with 14. G. W. had 28 rebounds (13 by Jack Jolly) to only 24 for Maryland, yet the Terps had more field goal attempts (53 to 42). Poor ball handling alone explains this.
